Industry Problem

Communication, Control & Quality

The three biggest issues to date that have been associated with the proposition of outsourcing your development. Building Blocks hybrid model was built to directly address these two key components.

i. Communication

Our blended on/off-shore models ensures 24 hour support for our partners, mitigating downtime costs and risks associated with entirely in-house solutions.

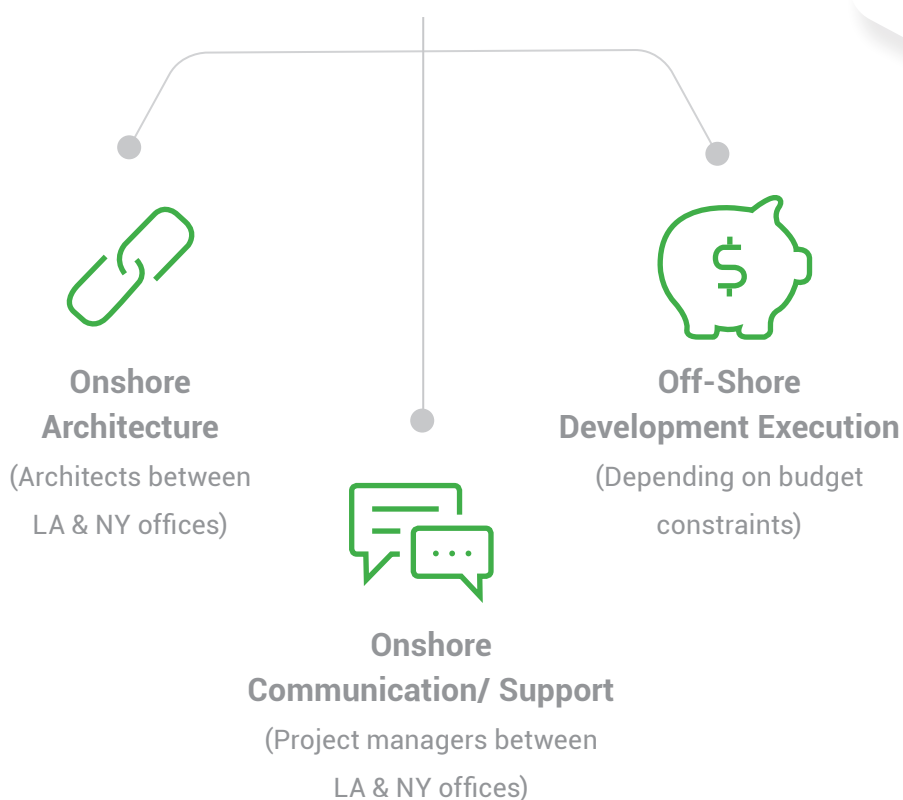

ii. Control

Through US based project management and support, Building Blocks allows our partners to maintain as much control as deemed necessary. We are a fully integrated, cooperative partner, designed with your needs and success in mind.

iii. Quality

BB uses our US Based Project Management Architecture, as well as our highly selective developer pool, to deliver on scope, on time, and on budget. Building Blocks operates within the sweet spot of this gap
